LEGACY NEWSLETTER

Providing information and resources about ways to leave your legacy.

Dear Friends,

How will this new year inspire you?

We have all felt the impact of change over the last two years, in many different ways. A new year tends to be a time to reflect on what's ultimately important to you both in the present and future. The constants we value most are love and relationships. Planning ahead is a way of addressing both those issues because it can help you determine your legacy in a careful and considerate way.

We hope you find value in the CSC Legacy newsletter which includes information about important topics in planned giving, updates on virtual presentations and a list of CSC Legacy Advisory Council Members who provide education and complimentary consultations to our CSC family.

As always, we thank you for your support.

Save the Dates

Planning on Peace of Mind
Wednesday, January 19, 6 - 8 PM

Virtual Presentation

Start the new year by finding out what you need to know about creating advance healthcare directives, wills, trusts, and more, with attorney Jonathan Thompson, Thompson Law Offices.

The Elephant in the Room: How Financial Stress Affects Productivity, Relationships, and Health

Monday, February 14, 11 AM - 12 PM

Virtual Presentation

Join Attorney Jen Lee for her signature talk on relationships and health when it comes to financial stress. Jen says, "It's important for people to know that medical bills don't have to wipe them out - it's possible to preserve retirement funds and home equity for future needs or charitable giving."

Join our Shannon McGowan Legacy Society

Did you know you could leave Cancer Support Community (CSC) in your planning for a lasting impact on the future care of CSC members? When you make a legacy gift through your will, trust or other planned giving, we honor you with membership in the Shannon McGowan Society.

As a member, you will have the satisfaction of knowing that your support will make it possible for Cancer Support Community to always be available for cancer patients and their families - free of charge. If you wish, you will be invited to exclusive events and seminars and receive an annual gift of thanks. Of course, if you prefer, you may also remain anonymous.

It's never too late to plan for (or adjust!) the causes you care about. How?

The first option is a gift through your will or trust. This allows you to save money for the future, ensure security for your loved ones, and help sustain CSC's future.

The second option is naming CSC as a beneficiary of a retirement plan, bank account, or life insurance policy without involving an attorney, or you may choose to donate stock.

If you would like additional information about the exciting and easy ways you can contribute to our mission, please contact Libby Eppinga, Director of Donor Support, at leppinga@cancersupport.net or 925-953-1216. Is CSC already in your planning? We would love to hear from you and share a legacy pin of support.

"Cancer Support Community (CSC) is a place of healing, and I'm honored to serve on the Board of Directors. I became a Legacy Society member because I was touched by so many stories of gratitude, and I want CSC to be here for a long time."

-Donald Duggan, CSC Board of Directors and Legacy Society Member
